SHORTAGE OF SILK CAUSES PRICES TO GO TO HIGH LEVEL

Trading In New Crop Four Months Ahead

EMBARGO STATUS

Long Screed Sent To Peking By Mill Owners

BY DAVID ARAKIE

A new phase in the local silk trade since the resumption of business after the Chinese New Year has been the trading in the new silk crop four months ahead. Three years ago a similar phenomenon was witnessed for supplies that had been practically taken off the market. The evils of such speculation at that time were soon reflected in a decline in rates when the new crop began to be marketed.

It is not only in Shanghai that June and July trading has commenced in the raw silk market. In Japan much importance appears to be attached to such business, the Japanese operators being optimistic as regards the future.

For the past week the local market has been very excited on account of the scarcity of supplies, especially in fine silk. Three thousand bales of forthcoming crop best filature secondary chop was done at Tls. 1,400, and because of the brisk demand that soon set in the price was shortly afterwards raised to Tls. 1,500 per picul. This sharp rise has frightened the consumers, and it is probable that the need has been filled for the moment. It is doubtful if values will go up further.

The shortage of stocks in all consuming markets is responsible for buyers purchasing so far ahead which is to ensure their securing their future requirements. The same feverish buying has been noticed of late on the Yokohama Silk Bourse. The outstanding facts remain that everywhere stocks are low, that buyers are champing at their bits ready to jump into the market, when prices are right, and that chances for a good business this coming season are bright. It is with such feelings of optimism that the Chinese silk merchant is facing the new season with all its dawning possibilities.

TUSSAH ACTIVE

Tussah has also been in active demand since the return to business after the holiday recess. Prices have been rising and today's quotation is Tls. 830 per picul for the best grade eight-cocoon No. 1 and 2. Only a few transactions in re-reeled tsatlees have been reported during the past week at previous rates.

A Peking despatch explains more clearly the refusal of the Diplomatic Corps to recognise the export embargo on Chinese cotton, which was to have come into operation last Thursday. The refusal is based on the Sino-Japanese Commercial Treaty of 1896, Article 9 of which stipulates that all commodities "shall have entirely free exportation and importation to and from China, except those prohibited by the special customs agreement existing between the two countries."

Countries other than Japan consider that they are entitled to apply the stipulations of the Sino-Japanese Commercial Treaty in accordance with the provisions of the treaties concluded with China on the most favored nation basis, and that, therefore, they have the right to refuse to recognise China's export embargo on any commodity. The refusal by the Diplomatic Corps in Peking to agree to the export embargo on Chinese cotton promulgated by the Chinese Government on February 7 was formally notified by the doyen of the Diplomatic Corps, as a result of an agreement by that body.

MILLOWNERS WRATHY

The Chinese cotton millowners are vehement over this refusal to recognise the embargo, and in a long screed forwarded to the Peking Government point out that no Treaty stipulations bind the Peking Government to allow free exportation of any material from the country. They cite the embargo placed on rubber by the British Government in its Dominions last year and a similar embargo by the Canadian Govern-

TURK ASSEMBLY DECIDES AGAINST LAUSANNE PACT

Government Authorised To Continue Negotiations

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, March 7.—A telegram from Angora states that the National Assembly has decided that the Lausanne draft treaty is inacceptable and contrary to the National Pact. It has disclaimed responsibility in the event of the Powers insisting on acceptance of the spirit and letter of the Treaty.

A substantial majority authorised the Government to continue negotiations on the following conditions: (1) the Mosul question must be settled within a certain period: (2) financial, economic and administrative questions must be settled in accordance with complete independence of the nation; and (3) the occupied territories must be evacuated rapidly after the signature of peace.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, March 6.—The Greek Minister of Foreign Affairs, replying to the Red Cross on the subject of the order to defer the departure from Greece of the Turkish prisoners, declared that Greece is obliged to wait for the cessation of the deportation of Greeks by Turkey before ordering the departure of the Turkish prisoners.

FLIERS RELEASED

BRITAIN'S EXPORT TRADE 69 PERCENT OF 1913 FIGURES

Stanley Baldwin Sees Slow But Gradual Gain

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 7.—The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, speaking at the Caxton Hall last night, said that trade was beginning slowly to emerge from the abyss. The export trade last year was 69 percent of pre-war trade, as compared with 50 percent in 1921, while that in the last quarter of last year was 75 percent.

If peace could be maintained, Mr. Baldwin hoped to see the figures slowly and surely approximate the pre-war figures but prosperity was impossible without the complete resumption of international trade. A final settlement of the debts and reparations in Europe would be the first endeavor of the Government. Whenever an opportunity offered they would do their utmost to achieve that end.

HUSAR WILL TRY TO BRING EARL B. ROSE BACK FROM U.S.

District Attorney Makes "Determined Effort" To Extradite Lawyer

IS A TEST CASE

Will Seek Congressional Change In Laws If Attempt Fails

United States District Attorney Leonard Husar announced last night that a determined effort will be made to bring Mr. Earl B. Rose back to Shanghai from the United States to answer charges of embezzlement and forgery as a case testing the question of extradition from America to China and Shanghai.

District Attorney Husar has prepared all the necessary papers on the question, including a brief setting forth authorities on which he bases his contention that Mr. Rose can be extradited from the United States for trial here, which he is sending to United States District Attorney Thomas P. Revelle at Seattle in the next American mails. The extradition proceedings will commence in Seattle upon the receipt of the information from Shanghai.

Mr. Husar said last night that his decision to attempt to extradite Mr. Rose had been arrived at after he had thoroughly gone into the question here and had held conferences with Major C. P. Holcomb, who was District Attorney at the time Rose fled from Shanghai, but who was absent in the United States, and with Mr. H. D. Rodger, Special Acting District Attorney during Major Holcomb's absence.

THE TEST CASE

"The effort to extradite Mr. Rose is being made principally because we desire to make it a test case," Mr. Husar said. "In the past it has been said that Americans in Shanghai could commit almost any crime and get away with it if they slipped out of Shanghai in time. We wish to clear up any question concerning such procedure and I am going to use every possible means at my command to secure Rose's extradition and trial here. The question has never been completely decided. Attorney-General Palmer once rendered an opinion that extradition was not possible, but we wish to have the question adjusted in the Federal courts, and will carry it to the United States Supreme Court if necessary.

"We have what might be described as precedent in favor of extradition in two cases in which American authorities in Hawaii sent back men wanted in Shanghai for criminal prosecution."

"If we fail in our effort," Mr Husar said, "and find that Americans cannot be extradited for crimes committed here I will, through the Attorney General's department make recommendations to Congress for the passage of the necessary legislation that will make extradition possible."

Mr. Husar intimated that he had discussed the general question of extradition proceedings with Attorney General Harry Daugherty and other members of the Attorney-General's department while on his recent visit to Washington, when he discussed several matters of interest to the United States Court for China and his own office.

Mr. Husar also said that since his assumption of the District Attorney's office here he had received a letter from Attorney General Daugherty asking what disposition was being made of the Rose case. Mr. Husar immediately conferred with Major Holcomb and Mr. Rodger, and in co-operation with Mr. Rodger, who as Acting District Attorney at the time handled the case, dispatched a letter to the Attorney-General informing him that immediate efforts would be made to bring Rose back to Shanghai for trial by reason of the Revised Statutes, sec. 1014 as interpreted by the Supreme Court in Benson v. Henkel, 198 U. S. 13, and v. Haubert, 198 U. S. 77 as it is believed that under the Act of June 30, 1906, creating the United States Court for China (34 U. S. Stats. at Large Ch. 3934) China is a "district" within the meaning of the Revised statutes.

WELL KNOWN HERE

Earl B. Rose was extremely well known in legal, business and sporting circles during his residence in Shanghai. He arrived in 1915 to become Clerk of the United States Court and Disbursing Officer for China and as he was already an attorney was admitted to the bar.

Reward Is Offered For Bomb Throwers

(Reuter's Service)

Cairo, March 6.—The authorities are offering a reward of £10,000 for the apprehension of the criminals concerned in the recent three bombing outrages and also £1,000 to the captor of any future aggressor.

The arrest has been ordered of Sidzeh Bey Hanein, who was arrested with Zaghlul Pasha in 1921 but released on undertaking to abstain from political activity.

'YOUCHOW' TEAM TAKES BIG LEAD IN Y.M.C.A.'S DRIVE

Walter Chen's Workers Get 3,132 Points First Week

Five hundred members gathered in the large hall of the Y.M.C.A. last night to hear the report of the first week of the Membership and Financial Campaign. The points were crowded in rapidly just before the closing hour, 8 o'clock. There was a spirited contest between the first teams although the total points as announced on the screen at 9 o'clock showed that the Youchow team under the leadership of Mr. W. H. Chen was ahead.

The results for the first week were as follows for the first six leading teams:

Team	Captain	Points
Youchow	Walter H. Chen.	3132
Yungchow	T. Y. Chang...	1145
Yrchow	K. B. Chang...	1013
Liangchow	S. S. Voong ...	763
Suchow	Y. S. Tsai	703
Yenchow	S. U. Zau	669

The campaign extends until March 24 and a spirited contest is in prospect. The goal is 2,760 members and a total of $28,218 in contributions, amounting to a total in cash of $60,000.

The educational work of the Association is making a strong appeal to the Association's constituency. The Association High School of Commerce has 500 students and the Evening School of Commerce nearly 900. In addition there is the Extension School in Frenchtown and in all, seven schools for industrial workers located in all parts of the Settlements and at Pootung which provide education in Chinese at much less than cost. The total enrolment for all classes during 1923, was 3,689, which makes the Shanghai Y one of the largest, if not the largest, educational institution in the Orient.

The workers in the campaign showed excellent spirit last night and it is predicted that it will be difficult for the Youchow team to maintain its leadership during the second week. Some of the teams are holding back their points with the hopes of making a strong showing a little later in the contest.

Woman's Club Show At Isis Tomorrow

An excellent program is announced by the American Woman's Club for the Isis Theater tomorrow night when a vaudeville entertainment is to be staged to raise funds for the building fund. Moving pictures will also be shown. The performance starts promptly at 9 o'clock and tickets will be available at the door for 50 cents, one dollar and $1.50. Mrs. J. T. Hammond is in charge of the affair.

JAPAN'S TRADE

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, March 7.—The Department of Finance reports that for the month of February, Japan's trade with China amounted to Y. 17,411,000 in exports and Y.14,385,000 in imports, the balance being Y.3,026,000 in favor of exports.

LIGHT OPERA SINGERS AND HAWAIIANS ON RADIO TONIGHT

Mokila To Play; Miss Coram And Mr. Ralston To Sing

"SING-SONGS"

Mr. Workman And Mr. Mettam Delight Listeners' In

Tonight's Radio Program

7:20 Chinese orchestra and sing-song girls from the New World.

8 p.m. 'Tuning in' phonograph selections.

8:10 Bed Time Story by Thornton Burgess.

8:15 Mokila, the famous Hawaiian musician appearing at the Hotel Parisien.

8:25 Mr. Jack Ralston of the Gilbert and Sullivan Light Opera Company, in songs.

8:35 Miss Elsie Coram of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera company, in songs.

8:40 News bulletins.

8:50 Chinese orchestra and sing-song girls.

9 p.m. Phonograph selections.

Radio enthusiasts will be regaled with a double-feature program tonight when Mokila, the famous Hawaiian music-maker who is now appearing at the Hotel Parisien ballroom nightly in Hawaiian specialties, will play several Hawaiian instruments and sing some of the melodious airs that have made the Paradise of the Pacific famous, and Miss Elsie Coram and Mr. Jack Ralston of the Gilbert and Sullivan light opera company appearing nightly at the Lyceum Theater, will sing some of their favorite numbers.

The splendid program arranged for tonight follows an exceptional treat given possessors of radio receiving sets last night when Mr. Charles Workman, star of the light opera aggregation, and Mr. Charles Mettam, the Gilbet and Sullivan tenor, sang four delightful numbers.

Mr. Workman made a decided hit with "Tit-Willow," his song from "The Mikado," and repeated with his song from recitative from "Patience." Mr. Workman was at his best—which is saying a great deal—in both numbers. He puts something into the "Tit-Willow" song, as Domino has already said much more gracefully, that few other singers of the part of Ko-Ko do.

Mr. Mettam sang the "Sparkling Eyes," song from "The Gondoliers," a song which earned him a great deal of deserved applause when the opera was produced, and then sang "I'll Sing Thee Songs Of Araby," as an encore. Mr. Mettam has an exceptionally fine tenor voice and he was last night to the best possible advantage.

Mr. J. Allison of the Robinson Piano Company, one of Shanghai's most accomplished pianists, accompanied Mr. Workman and Mr. Mettam in an extremely creditable manner.

Miss Coram, who sings tonight, is the dainty soprano of the D'Oyle Carte opera Company and is particularly effective in "Merrie England," when she sings the part of Bernice Throckmorton. Mr. Ralston, who also sings tonight sang the part of "The Kigako" in that opera. And Mokila will round out the program with some tuneful Hawaiian music.

CHINESE MUSIC

Through the courtesy of the manager of the New World, Shanghai's largest and best known Chinese amusement enterprise, The China Press and Radio Corporation have made arrangements to give a Chinese musical program every night beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Last night—and they will repeat tonight—the orchestra from the New World, together with three sing-song girls from the New World, the pick of Shanghai's famous entertainers played Chinese music for a half hour, and then, upon the request of some of the Chinese radio fans, who are increasing in number by leaps and bounds, played again following Mr. Workman's and Mr. Mettam's songs.

Each evening the Chinese orchestra will give a number of

Rapa Island Near-Paradise For Males; Women Work

BY IRENE CORBALLY KUHN

Honolulu, T. H., (by mail).—Overwhelming numerical superiority of females does not necessarily mean that the men are chased up hill and down dale by the females who outnumber them. There is the Island of Rapa, for instance, in the Austral group in the South Pacific, about which some writer of frenzied fiction, in an endeavor to out O'Brien the redoubtable Frederick himself, wove glittering narratives that made all previous tales of the South Seas evaporate into thin air by comparison.

Now comes the real truth about Rapa from the lips of J. F. G. Stokes, backed up by Mrs. Stokes, who went with her husband on a two-year expedition to the Austral group in the interests of the Bishop Museum of Honolulu, where Dr. Stokes is ethnologist. Dr. and Mrs. Stokes have just returned to Honolulu.

Rapa is a land of laziness and ease—for the men—says Dr. Stokes. The Rapa male population is, for the most part, too lazy to live, and so there are four women for every man. Does the beauteous Rapa flapper get out her hatchet when she wants a beau and go after him with several others of her age, strength and inclinations? She does not!

NOT TOO ANXIOUS

The women of Rapa are not at all anxious to marry the men of their own race, says Dr. Stokes, as, once they are married, they become little more than slaves. They have no hold on or control over their husbands, who, despite the fact that each man has only one official wife, never forget that each of them has three other possible candidates for the official wife's position. A double standard prevails in Rapa, too, for if the official wife attempts to enjoy the same privileges that her husband does she is liable to a severe "beating up," to say the least.

The people of Rapa—and this probably means the women especially—are exceedingly hospitable to white men. As a result of the recently published articles anent the island and the ideal conditions there several white "beachcombers" have taken up headquarters on Rapa, much to the delight of the native women. Needless to remark Rapa is likely to become the South Pacific beachcombers' new Paradise.

WOMEN DO WORK

Although all the agricultural work and preparation of food is done by the women, Dr. Stokes says that the stories that have been circulated of the actual feeding of the Rapa men by the women are true only in one respect—that is, that the women sometimes feed the men, but not three times, or even once a day. It is the custom on festive occasions for the women playfully to put food into the mouths of the men. The aforementioned frenzied fictionist was on the island on one of these occasions no doubt and sent the news around the world that he had discovered an exclusive heaven-on-earth for men!

AMERICAN MAIL ARRIVES TODAY ON THE MADISON

Outgoing Matter To Go On President Lincoln Saturday

Bringing 1,650 sacks of mail, a full passenger list and 4,900 tons of general cargo for this port, the Admiral Line steamer President Madison is due to arrive here from Seattle and Japan ports this afternoon. The Madison is expected to dock at the China Merchants' Central Wharf at about 5 o'clock and will sail for Hongkong and Manila at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia is due at Woosung from Vancouver early Saturday morning and sails for Hongkong at 2 a.m. Sunday. The tender with outgoing passengers will leave the Customs jetty at 4:30 p.m. Saturday and passengers from the ship are expected to land about 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

American mail will be dispatched on the President Lincoln next Saturday closing at 11 a.m. and 12 noon for registered and ordinary matter, and that for European ports will go on the Hakone Maru the same day, which is to close at 7 and 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

The Lincoln is due here from Manila tomorrow afternoon and will berth at the Blue Funnel lower buoys. The tender with outgoing passengers for the vessel will leave the Customs jetty at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Following the arrival of the Porthos last Tuesday, the next batch of European mail is due on the P. and O. steamer Nankin, which was expected to leave Singapore yesterday. The Kashgar of the same line left London at 2 p.m. March 2 and is expected to arrive in Shanghai about April 11.

The steamers Janus and Chyebassa, both of P. and O., are expected to arrive in Shanghai from Bombay via ports on March 13 and 14 respectively.

BRITISH AND FRENCH FAIL TO AGREE ON USE OF ZONE

General Payot Now Threatens To Go To London

AT LOGGERHEADS

Premier Poincare Replies To Bishops' Protest

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 7.—Contrary to the previous announcement, Reuter's correspondent at Cologne learns that no agreement has been reached with regard to the transport of French troops in the British zone. The discussion has resulted in a complete deadlock.

General Payot has announced his intention of taking the matter to London if the British authorities do not give way.

Essen, March 7.—The absence of the police has caused an influx of criminals, who are operating almost unchecked. The fire brigade, who are forbidden to carry arms, are endeavoring to maintain order. Thus the victims of the criminals ring a fire-alarm, which brings a party of firemen, armed with rubber tubing weighted with lead. With these weapons they have very effectively dispersed many bands.

London, March 6.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Colonel J. C. Wedgwood, the Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Mr. Ronald McNeill, said that the railway on the right bank of the Rhine through the British occupied zone would be retained under British control.

The proposals for the final settlement of the transport question in the British zone, which were still subject to negotiations, did not provide for any French control of the railways in the British zone.

POSSIBILITY OF WAR DISCUSSED IN BRITISH HOUSE

Members Talk Of "Enforcing Our Will On France"

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 6.—In the House of Commons today, in the course of a debate on a Labor motion relative to the Ruhr, Mr. Bonar Law reaffirmed that the Government believed that intervention at the moment would be regarded as a hostile act by France because, though she was suffering heavy loss in consequence of the occupation of the Ruhr, she knew that Germany was suffering more.

He emphasised, however, that the settlement of reparations was a question not for France and Belgium alone but for Europe and, in which we were interested and must have a voice.

The anxiety which the Ruhr expedition was causing was fully shared by the Government. Mr. Bonar Law was certain that French statesmen believed that in spite of what had happened pressure would have an effect on Germany and, while they held that view, he thought it would be useless to offer mediation.

The inevitable result of the reasoning of many of the speakers in the debate would seem to be to prepare for the possibility of enforcing our will on France by war.

He did not believe for a moment that any French statesman was seriously contemplating a European bloc that left us out.

The motion was talked out.

Paris, March 6.—Partisans of France today prevented the holding of a meeting at the Community Church in New York, organised by German-Americans to protest against the occupation of the Ruhr. The members of the committee and those present were easily dispersed.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, March 6.—Replying to the appeal addressed on the occasion of the occupation of the Ruhr by Swedish bishops to the Christians of all countries, M. Poincare wrote a letter on February 15 to the Archbishop of Upsala, recalling that France was attacked without provocation in 1914 and also the cynicism with which Belgium was violated.

The letter continued: Although there can be no doubt of German responsibility, the succeeding Governments after the armistice are working their hardest to evade their obligations. Far from hastening by loyal execution of the Treaty the end of the measures of occupation which the Allies have had to prescribe, they seem to care solely for practising a policy of prodigality and of cheapening German currency.

Regardless of the sufferings imposed on the great mass of the German population for the gain of the few, they have pursued this disastrous policy in order to avoid repairing the evils which their predecessors caused France and Belgium. After having awaited for three long years a change of conduct on the part of the guilty, France and Belgium found themselves forced in face of the voluntary default which has been duly declared, to have recourse to the sanctions provided for in the treaty. They are resolved to make use of their right with moderation and without having recourse to brutality or violence, especially towards the workers and the German population.

France ardently hopes, M. Poincare concludes, that a day will come when we can pardon the crimes committed by Germany in unchaining the most terrible of wars. The first condition of pardon is that the guilty repent and change their conduct.

The Protestant Federation of France also replied to the Swedish bishops, regretting the abstention of the Christians of neutral countries during the war in failing to condemn the Power which violated the neutrality of weak Belgium.

The reply adds: They had no words of reprobation for the Central Empires. In short they never consented to echo the cries of distress of the populations of the north of France. The Federation recalled that at the end of the war ravaged France had no thought of imperialism but demanded the reconstruction of the homes destroyed and the factories sacked and expected to see Germany, as France did in 1871, apply herself to reduce by rapid payment of her debt the duration of the occupation.

In conclusion the letter said: "The only thing that France wishes to break is the ill will which intends effectively to continue the war under the form of stubborn refusal to fulfil the obligations of the Treaty. France is not hindering the restoration of peace: it is Germany who is continuing disguised hostilities."

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Mar. 6.—The German newspapers are preparing the stage for the speech which will be delivered in the Reichstag today by Herr Cuno and which is intended to demonstrate in the eyes of the world German solidarity in the face of the alleged brutality of the French and Belgians.

The Intransigeant declares that the Chancellor in his speech will certainly forget to point out that since the end of the war France has expended 54 milliards for the devastated regions. During that time Germany has paid less than 2,000,000,000 marks, gold, of which France has only obtained 2,000,000,000 gold marks (about 6,000,000,000 Francs).

Norfolk, Virginia, March 6.—Two steamers will sail for Germany this week with cargoes of coal. It is understood that a third steamer has been chartered for the same purpose.

Germany "Keyed To Intolerable Pitch," Says Cuno

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, March 6.—The recent French action in the occupied territory was hotly denounced in the Reichstag today by the Chancellor, Herr Cuno, who declared that the latest advances in the Rhineland had been embarked upon on a trivial pretext.

He asserted that Germany was keyed up to an almost intolerable tension and warned the world lest a terrible danger should arise.

Herr Cuno contrasted the early French assurance that the occupation of the Ruhr should not be of a military or political character with the reality of the situation, pointing out that the French were employing five divisions of troops, seventy-five tanks and a hundred aeroplanes.

The Chancellor quoted figures showing that over 1,000 German officials and 600 police had been expelled, while 73 of the former have been court-martialled and sentenced for keeping their oaths of loyalty. He alleged that rigorous hardships had been inflicted on the condemned men and other brutal treatment, which greatly excited and angered the Reichstag.

Further figures were quoted showing that the French had only received 74,000 tons of coal and no timber since the occupation instead of 2,000,000 tons of coal and 74,000 cubic feet of timber.

The Chancellor concluded with an emphatic declaration that Germany would carry on passive resistance until she attained the goal of a reasonable, free and honest understanding.

Gilbert And Sullivan Company

"Trial By Jury!"

Verdict "Found Wanting!"

Another full house welcomed the Gilbert and Sullivan Company last night at the Lyceum Theater, and was treated to a pleasant evening's entertainment. I don't think that the work was quite up to the standard that we have had in the former shows. "Trial by Jury" is a delightful burlesque, but I fancy that the players rather overdid it last night. It was wanting in finish. There were some good things in it however. Young Workman's little charactor sketch as the "Usher" was excellent. He is following faithfully in Father's footsteps. The "Learned Judge" spoke and sang well. It was delightful to hear so distinctly his words. Some of his business was a little forced. The "Learned Judge" was Jack Kinson.

Miss Grace Crotty had quite a lot to do as the "Plaintiff." I cannot understand why the Defendant wanted to throw her over. She is very nice to look upon and sings prettily. Mr. Charles Mettam sang well as the Defendant.

After a commendably short interval, that charming opera H. M. S. Pinafore was given. Those wonderful tunes and rhymes tickled everyone. Here the work was distinctly better than in "Trial by Jury." It is a pity the company cannot carry a bigger chorus. The people they have work with any amount of pep, but a dozen folk cannot give full justice to all the broad effects. We cannot blame the management for this. With present expenses it would be impossible to maintain anything like a really adequate chorus. Let us be thankful that we have them as good as they undoubtedly are.

The principals were all good. Quite one of the best things of the show was that fine old favorite "And Now I Am the Ruler of the Queen's Navee." It was jolly well sung too by Mr. Jack Kinson. His enunciation was so good that we were able to hear every word.

Miss Elsie Coram proved to be a charming "Josephine." Her daintiness was irristible, and her singing always beautifully sweet. Again let me pay a tribute to her fine elocution. The part of "Buttercup" was in the safe hands of Miss Lorimer. She played the part differently to what I have seen before, but she was effective and gave pleasure with her acting and singing.

John Ralston make a great "Captain Corcoran." He has just the presence for the part, and his powerful voice and convincing playing naturally made him a prime favorite.

The juvenile "Ralph Rackstraw" is a difficult part to play. It calls for a wide range in singing, and the lines need very careful handling. I fancy Gilbert must have be chuckling at every line he wrote. He was pulling any amount of fun at someone, and I suppose it is that someone that has to be portrayed by the man who plays "Ralph." Gordon Crocker is the typical juvenile as far as looks go. Of course the little maids are all crazy about him. He really does look nice. It was a shame that the other little girl on the stage spurned him to begin with, but that was necessary if the play was to proceed. Well, he did his work well. He looked well, and his singing was pleasing. It was difficult at times to hear all that he said.

We've lucky to have so good a company among us, and we appreciate it. If there are little blemishes here and there, such as one points out, it is not so much the company's fault as it is misfortune. By the way don't for a minute let me forget the little work done last night by Victor Prince as "Dick Deadeye." He only had a little to do. But he was in the picture all the time. I kept him till last because I want to warn you that tonight he is to star in the musical comedy "Katinka." I'm told he is a big hit. He scores every time.

Tonight: Katinka.

Chinese tunes for the benefit of the Chinese 'listeners in' as well as for the novelty aspect afforded foreigners. The Chinese music and the singing of the sing-song girls is especially appreciated by the big crowds that attend the New World nightly. The amusement place has fitted up a receiving set that works perfectly and the amusement-seekers who go to the New World have excellent opportunities for 'listening in.'

GOOD REPORT

THE CHINA PRESS yesterday received the following self-explanatory letter from Mr. Arthur Gilman, chief radio operator on the s.s. President McKinley, mailed at Yokohama:

China Press.

Shanghai, China.

Dear Sirs:

Desiring to submit my report on your radio-phone concerts as received aboard the s.s. President McKinley, enroute to Japan from Shanghai.

The vessel sailed from Shanghai at one thirty p.m. February 6. Your broadcast was received on this evening very strong and clear. But each following evening we were unable to hear anything from your station. The receiver which we are using will not quite reach as low as two hundred meters and the tubes used are VT-1., with two step amplifier.

By the clearness of your phone and strength on our first evening from departure, I would say it is very efficient and would not place any doubt as to the efficiency by this report and failure to hear from you. We also experienced very much interference from the Japanese ship and shore stations.

On our next voyage out we will probably be equipped with proper receiving apparatus and soft tubes for this broadcast and will give a further report on arrival in Shanghai. Any vessels which we may pass enroute to Shanghai from Seattle or San Francisco, I will ask them to listen for you and send in a report. Trusting you may continue in this broadcast and wishing every success to your station.

Respectfully,
Arthur B. Gilman,
Chief Radio Operator.
S.S. President McKinley.

Wireless Boom In England

The extraordinary success in broadcasting Covent Garden opera has resulted in a wireless "boom."

There has been a rush for broadcasting licences in the provinces by those who heard Dame Nellie Melba as Mimi in "La Boheme" on the long-distance wireless sets of friends.

"In December we received 6,000 applications for licences," said a Post Office official to a Daily Mail reporter, interviewed. "This month's figures are expected to double those of the last two months."

The rapidly spreading interest is also shown by the large sales recently of valve sets capable of receiving on a very much longer range than the crystal sets.

"People have been astounded by the success of broadcasting opera," said an official of the British Broadcasting Company. "We have proof that the opera was heard distinctly in Madrid and in Denmark, Sweden, Belgum, Holland, and distant parts of Scotland."

Girl's Song Carries 3,500 Miles On Radio

(China Press Correspondence)

Havana, (by mail).—What is believed to be a world's long distance record for broadcasting a woman's voice has just been established by station PWX of the Cuban Telephone Company, associated with the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation of New York. A letter received today from Robert E. Coughlin, of Douglas, Alaska—2,500 miles in an airline from Havana—reports that on the night or January 6 his wife plainly heard "Mother Machree" being broadcast from station PWX.

The singer was Miss Harriet Williams, a member of the staff of the American Consul General in Havana. Miss Williams was formerly associate editor of a Mexican magazine in New York City and on the night of January 6 sang "Mother Machree" in the hope that her mother, wo lives in Toledo, might hear her.

"Began to think she would never get well."

Our Portrait is of Miss FLORRIE ORGAN, of 100, Clark Street, Ladywood, Birmingham, England, whose father writes:

"My daughter Florrie was suffering with a very bad head covered with sores and Eruptions, and in fact her mother was afraid to comb her hair. She had been under several doctors, but all to no purpose, so I began to think she would never get well again and lose all her hair. As your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' cured me of Glandular Swellings in the Neck some years ago, and so averted my having to undergo an operation, I decided to give 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' a fair trial in the case of my daughter, and I am pleased to say it effected a wonderful cure in just over a fortnight."

SUFFERERS from Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Piles, Eczema, Boils, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Gout should realise that lotions and ointments can but give temporary relief; to be sure of complete and lasting benefit the blood must be thoroughly cleansed of the impure waste matter the root cause of such troubles. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks, overcomes and expels the impurities; that is why so many remarkable recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take, and free from injurious ingredients.

Husar Will Try To Bring Earl B. Rose Back From U.S.

From 1917 until March, 1921, he was one of the Settlement's leading attorneys and a prominent figure in racing and paper hunt circles and considered one of the leading members of the American community.

On March 12, 1921, THE CHINA PRESS published a story concerning Rose that caused instantaneous turmoil and consternation not only in the American community but in the entire Settlement.

Rose had slipped out of Shanghai on a Japanese vessel on March 6 or 8. He had been dropped from the membership of the American Bar Association, and in proceedings held before Judge Charles Sumner Lobingier in the United States Court for China he had been disbarred, because of an information filed against him by Mr. H. D Rodger, Acting District Attorney, charging him with the embezzlement of shares of stock valued at Tls. 9,500 which had been entrusted to his care by Sonn Bros. Company an import and export house which has since closed its Shanghai offices.

The discovery of the alleged embezzlement had been made while Rose was ill with typhoid in a local hospital and Mr. Stirling Fessenden dean of the American bar, was said to have obtained a complete confession from Rose.

Mr. Fessenden immediately took the initiative and in a session of the American Bar Association asked that he be dropped from membership and disbarred. Criminal proceedings were also filed but before Rose could be served he boarded the Japanese steamer and escaped to the United States.

WAS ARRESTED

Rose was arrested upon his arrival in Seattle under telegraphic orders from Mr. Rodger, but was released upon putting up $10,000 gold bail. He is still at liberty under bail and is promoting mah jongg by selling sets and giving instruction in the game in a leading Los Angeles hotel, according to the latest information received of him.

The extradition case was due to be heard before the Federal courts in Seattle a few weeks ago and when Mr. Husar was in Washington he received a message from Rose asking for a conference upon his return to Los Angeles. When Mr. Husar returned to Los Angeles he talked with Mr. Rose for some time concerning the case. Mr. Rose according to Mr. Husar, announced his intention of fighting the case to the last and informed him that he had retained the Seattle law firm of Peters and Powell to defend him. The government will be represented in the action Mr. Husar is pushing by United States District Attorney Revelle of Seattle, and possibly by a special prosecutor from the Attorney-General's office.

The embezzlement charge on which the attempted extradition will be made was preferred by Mr. James MacDonnell, manager of Sonn Bros. He was alleged to have used cotton shares to the par value of Tls. 9,500 which had been entrusted to him as compradore security by Sonn Bros. for his own use by putting them up at the Asia Bank as security for a loan of G. $7,000.

The shares in question were as follows:

1 share certificate for 10 shares of Dah Sung Cotton Mill, at Tls. 100, Nos. 1186-1195 (Woo Nan Kee) Tls. 1,000.

1 do Nos. 2974-2983 (Woo Dzu Teh Dong) Tls. 1,000.

1 do Nos. 2964-2973 do.

1 do 1070-1079 do.

1 supplementary share certificate for 37 shares of Dah Sung Cotton Mill at Tls. 50 Nos. 1285-1331 (Nyi Kyi) Tls. 1,850.

1 do for 33 shares Nos. 1332-1364 (Woo Dzu Teh Dong) Tls. 6,500.

1 do for 5 shares Nos. 7554-7558 do Tls. 250.

1 do for 10 shares Nos. 11168-11177 (Woo Nan Kee) Tls. 500.

1 do for 20 shares Nos. 510-529 (Woo Dzu Teh Dong) Tls. 1,000.

OTHER CHARGES

Mr. Husar said that in addition to the Sonn Bros. charge there were other charges which had been filed against Rose and on which he would be tried if he were extradited from the United States. One of the principal charges, considered important by American Consular officials, is the alleged forgery of Consul J. E. Jacobs' name. Consul Jacobs, who is now in the United States on temporary duty with the State Department, made an affidavit when he was a Vice-Consul to the effect that his name had been forged on a document purporting to be U. S. Consular Title Deed No. 2541 concerning property which on November 19, 1920 was described and registered in the name of Earl B. Rose, and on December 23, 1920, transferred to the American Trading Company.

Tls. 50,000 In Pearls Involved In Action

A case involving 75 pearls, valued at Tls. 50,000, came up for hearing in the Mixed Court yesterday before Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Yui. The action is brought by Lee Sui-chu, director of the Wei Kung Bank, against Sun Shu-wan, Sun Kuei-lien and Cheng Glen-kee, who are accused of fraudulently obtaining the pearls.

On the application of Mr. Krisel, appearing for the complainant, bail was set at $10,000 in the case of one of the defendants, who surrendered himself and appeared in court. Mr. Langley Smith, appearing for the defendant, asked an adjournment, and the case was set over for today.

BRITISH CABINET IN DUMPS, RESULT OF BY-ELECTIONS

Government Plans To Recast Its Housing Plans

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 7.—In view of the Government's confidence that the seat at Edgehill was absolutely safe and also the fact that the housing question is not so acute at Liverpool as in London, the latest by-election result has created consternation in Conservative circles. The unprecedented happening of three successive defeats of Ministers at by-election is demanding the most serious consideration by the Cabinet, which, it is anticipated, will recast its housing plans, while the Premier will be forced to take early steps to strengthen the Cabinet.

ANOTHER DEFEAT

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 6.—Yet another Minister has failed to secure a foothold in the House of Commons. Major J. W. Hills, the Financial Secretary of the Treasury, being rejected for Edgehill, Liverpool, in the by-election created by the resignation of Sir Watson Rutherford. The voting was as follows:

New Scheme To Overthrow Soviet

(Reuter's Service)

New York, March 7.—An alleged new plan to overthrow the Soviets has been brought to light in connection with the trial of a man charged with larceny.

A witness stated that 37 prominent American manufacturers had contributed $1,000,000 each to finance a corporation for trading with Russia after the Soviet had been overthrown.

The City Prosecutor stated that the accused had told the manufacturers that a group of Russians, formerly associated with the Government of the Tsar, had joined with "a number of Japanese diplomats" and planned to organise a United States of Russia.

Customs Treaty To Be Submitted Soon

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 7.—The Daily Telegraph understands that in accordance with the Washington Treaties the British Government has elaborated a draft Customs scheme for China. The draft will shortly be submitted for consideration to the Powers signatories of the Washington Treaty.

ment on certain articles as precedents to support their argument, and they proceed to contend that every sovereign nation has the right to place an embargo on the export of any of its products at its own free will. Yes, if there is no Treaty right infringed.

With commendable enterprise Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand, Exchange brokers, have compiled a chart illustrating the course of exchange in Shanghai on some important countries during last year. It should prove a useful reference, giving at a glance the ruling rate of exchange during any month last year with stocks of silver in Shanghai at the time, the price of bar silver on the London market and also the cross-rates, native interest, the London discount rates, and the rise and fall of silver.

The influence of the last northern spring War on Shanghai silver stocks and the sterling rate of the tael is fully illustrated in this chart, no reference to old files and papers being necessary. The average T.T. rate on London in March last was 3s. 1.942d., in April it was 3s. 3.614d., May 3s. 5.981d., and June 3s. 6.354d. It then began to glide down, reaching in December last the low level of 3s. 0.739d. Native call money was the highest during this period in the first week of last year, being quoted at 11 percent, due to the close proximity of the Chinese New Year, which fell in the first week of February. It eased off considerably soon after, being securable at as low as one percent. At this level it did not stay long but began to firm up with the fear of imminent clash of arms and went up to nine percent in the last week of May. It then gradually became easier, being obtainable at the end of July at as low as one percent, increasing to two percent in the following month. In December owing to the lower stocks of silver in Shanghai native call money had gone up from 2½ percent in the opening week to 9 percent at the end of the year.

During the internecine struggle stocks of silver in Shanghai had declined in March from Tls. 34,897,000 in sycee and bar silver and 30,320,000 in Chinese and Mexican dollars to Tls. 23,790,000 sycee and 30,220,000 in dollars in the last week of May. In the third week of September stocks of silver in Shanghai were at the highest watermark, Tls. 41,033,000 in sycee and bar and 36,790,000 in Chinese and Mexican dollars.

Pirates' Attempt To Board Yacht Shanghai Fails

The 23-ton yacht Shanghai, which set sail from Shanghai on February 20 on a 16,000 mile cruise of adventure to Denmark, was attacked by pirates off the Chinese coast a few days sail from Shanghai, according to word received by members of the Shanghai Yacht Club yesterday.

Attempts were made to board the yacht from a junk, but after an exchange of shots, the pirates made off.

The 'Shanghai' is manned by a crew of five modern Vikings from Shanghai formerly in the employ of the Great Northern Cable Company. All are experienced sailors and are making the adventurous cruise home as a holiday.

HOME ECONOMICS COURSES TO BE GIVEN IN CHINA

American Educator Tells Of Plans For College Work

The Home Economics Department of the American Woman's Club listened to an interesting and timely lecture yesterday morning, at the old Carlton, by Miss Ava B. Milam, Dean of the Department of Home Economics at the State College of Oregon at Corvallis, who has been granted a year's leave of absence in order to establish a Home Economics Department in Yenchieng College, the woman's division of the Peking University.

Miss Milam has been travelling in China, investigating the economic conditions in the homes in order to get a definite idea of the needs to be met in this work and also visiting the girls' schools in the various parts of China. A successful campaign has recently been conducted in America for raising a sufficient fund to carry on this work in the East, which resulted in a sum of $3,000,000, one million of which was contributed by the Laura Rockfeller Spellman Fund. Seven women's colleges in the Orient will benefit by this campaign, including three colleges in India, three in China and one in Japan. The colleges in China are: Yenchieng College, Peking, Ginling College, Nanking, and the Woman's Medical College, Peking.

Miss Milam said that the work next year will be only a beginning but that she felt that the need for the instruction in home-making was not only among the Chinese girls, but the American also, as out here particularly the young girls have no opportunity for such training and when they returned home to America in most instances they go to live in homes where the servant problem was an ever-growing tangle.

In regard to the training for home-making among the Chinese girls, in the majority of schools it is entirely lacking, whereas the girls received a specific institutional training or are prepared to take up a profession, so that they are more fitted for teaching or professional work than the job of home-making. While Miss Milam recognises the necessity of this training, nevertheless the necessity of training the girls for the home, she feels, should be carried on at the same time. More especially is this training necessary in the light of the appalling infant mortality among the Chinese, which the recent reports show—something like eight out of every ten. In most cases this is due to ignorance on the part of the parents.

In closing Miss Milam stated that practically every woman's college in America has a Home Economics Department and the records show that for last year the graduates in home-making numbered some thirteen thousand, which shows the tremendous interest which is being aroused in this subject in America.

A short business session was held immediately preceding the program and the following Nominating Committee was announced: Mesdames MacCracken, Guss, and Clarke. The election of officers will take place on April 11, after which Mrs. Van Buskirk will read a paper on "Books for the Younger Children," and the members are requested to bring their favorite nursery books with them.

Former President Of Woman's Club To Be Honored Today

A lunch, in honor of Mrs. Murray Warner, a former president of the American Woman's Club, will be given under the auspices of the Social Department of the Club at the New Carlton today at one o'clock. Reservations may be obtained from Mrs. Lochr, tel. W. 3020 and Mrs. Corbett, W. 2784. The price per plate is $2.50 instead of $3.50 as was stated before. Mrs. Murray has only just arrived in Shanghai and expects to depart tomorrow for Peking.

VAN CUTSEM—FOURMENT

The marriage of Miss Madeleine Fourment, niece of Commander G di Rossi, Italian Consul-General in Shanghai, to Mr. A. Van Cutsem, Belgian Consul in Hankow, took place yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's Cathedral before a brilliant assemblage of prominent Chinese and foreigners.

The civil ceremony occured on Tuesday at the Belgian Consulate General, Mr. J. Van Haute, the Consul, officiating. The church ceremony yesterday afternoon was performed by the Rev. Father Monus.

Miss Fourment was attended by Miss Laura Chirl, and the Misses Marie and Jacqueline de la Prade. Mr. Van Cutsem was attended by Lieut. Notarbrattolo of the Italian Army, Mr. P. Bedoni and Mr. P. Van Haute.

The bride was given away by Commander di Rossi, and following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Commander and Mme. di Rossi which was attended by a large number of friends. Many beautiful presents including a large number from prominent Chinese officials, were displayed during the reception.

The honeymoon is being spent in Shanghai, after which Mr. and Mrs. Van Cutsem will make their home in Hankow.

Company Begins Novel Method Of Selling Eggs

Quite a novel method of selling eggs is that recently introduced by Messrs. S. Rakusen and Sons, of Shanghai. It consists in supplying households with eggs packed in cartons of twelve each, and stamped with the mark "eggsell." This stamp is made to ensure their being fresh, well graded and every egg is guaranteed fresh and sold according to quality and weight.

Messrs. Rakusen and Sons, who originated the export shipment of fresh eggs from China, hold the record for the largest shipment of fresh eggs in the world—15,000,000 eggs (3,000 tons)—in one lot with a value of over one million dollars. Surveyors to Lloyds, who inspected the shipment, certified that only one egg had slight albumen adherent. By means of a new invention by C. P. Rakusen, every egg is "X-rayed" under foreign supervision, which enables the company to guarantee the quality of their product.

Six S. A. S. Students Spoke Yesterday—Five More This Morning

Six young men in the Class of 1923 at the American School delivered their senior orations at the Scout House, yesterday afternoon, and five more speakers will be heard this morning.

The senior orators in the contest yesterday were: Charles Y. McDaniel, "National Defense, Yes or No?"; Read Hager, "The Bonus Bill"; Thomas H. Crafton, "Municipal Control of Public Utilities"; William S. Woods "The American Flag on the Seas"; Jerome Shipley, "America, Prohibition, and the World"; and Alexander S. Moffett, "Reforming the Criminal in America."

The five speakers today will be, William W. Lockwood, "the Philippines, Should they have Independence"; Henry L. Skinner, "Alaska, Past, Present, and Future"; R. Eugene Parker, "America and the Protective Tariff"; Paul L. Harvey, "The Immigration Problem in America"; and J. Elliott Fisher, "America and World Peace."

The eleven young men taking part in the contest are members of the American School senior class, and have been coached by Prof. Leland N. Edmunds, of the English Department, for some months. Following the orations this morning, the judges will announce the winners of the Scottish Rite prizes, which will be awarded at commencement, June 7 next.

The winner of the contest will deliver his oration commencement evening, with Frances Jean Bowen, winner of the senior girls' oratory contest held several weeks ago.

The China Central Committee of the American Red Cross has received an order from its headquarters at Washington to the effect that no more remittances may be received for food and clothing to be sent to destitute Russians.

Kuyuan, Kansu, Needs Seeds

(China Press Correspondence)

Kuyuan, Kansu, Feb. 21.—Scarcity of seed is very likely to cause a disastrous famine in this district this year. We have had nine snowfalls so far which will greatly aid in plowing in March and if there were sufficient seed to plant there would be prospects for a good crop.

Several thousand dollars could be expended handily in purchasing seeds but as there is no branch of the International Famine Relief Committee in this part of the province many people hesitate to send funds here.

Anyone interested in relief work in Kuyuan, Kansu, can communicate with Mr. H. Swenson, Scandinavian Alliance Mission of North America.

Murder Of Two Policemen Is Still Mystery

Despite vigilant work by members of the Chapei police no light has been thrown on the mysterious murder of two Chinese policemen whose bodies were found near the Kiangwan Race course on Tuesday.

No additional information concerning the murders has been unearthed since the bodies of the two men were found, one in a ditch at the side of the Shanghai-Woosung railway, and one in a pond a little farther on the same right-of-way. The policemen had been struck down with clubs and their skulls crashed after they had been out on duty.

Hungarian Takes Free Electricity From Air, Claim

(Reuter's Service)

Budapest, March 6.—A young Hungarian engineer, M. Dezsoffy has invented an apparatus for extracting electric current from the air at no expense. The chief feature of the device is a mast similar to those used in wireless telegraphy. The electric energy, gained from the air, varies according to the height of the mast. M. Dezsoffy claims that he is able to reach 40,000 volts at a height of 900 feet. Several houses have been fitted with the apparatus. It is observed that the current is strongest at noon and weakest at midnight.

The Government is placing a workshop at the disposal of the inventor.

THE DEAD SURE THING AS A RULE IS MORE DEAD THAN SURE

ROSENFELD IS BASEBALL SECRETARY

Captain And Manager Will Be Elected On Monday Afternoon

TO NAME HOIBY

Membership Campaign To Star Shortly; Goal Is $10,000

The manager and captain of the Shanghai Amateur Baseball Club for the 1923 season is to be elected on Monday afternoon when the players will gather to start plans for the Summer. The session will be held around the big stove in Herby Gallop's suite in Fobes and Company's offices on Siking Road and the hour is announced as 5:15.

Julius Rosenfeld, who has been named secretary, will sit in as his first official act. Julius has been named by the committee to succeed Jack Smith in the secretary-treasurer berth and the selection is a happy one. Always a keen baseball fan Julius for the past two seasons has helped Gallop, Smith and others in various ways. He should be an efficient man in the position.

Gallop will succeed himself as manager without question as the players are for him just as strong as the fans are. Herbert pulled through a great season last year as right bower to Freddie McIntyre and deserved the honor.

The captaincy is bothering the gang. Harry Kingman, the logical man, is unable to play Sunday baseball, and Freddie Bills doesn't like the job. Walter Holliday would be a good man for the pilot's job and will probably be chosen. Kingman will probably act as playing coach and the team this year will go through skull practice sessions.

After the manager and captain are named, Jimmy Rogers plans to start his membership campaign chop chop. The goal is 1,000 members before the first of April and a committee of 50 will be led by Jimmy in a city-wide canvass. Men will be appointed to the group from every office in Shanghai and every American will be asked to join. A special effort will be made to interest British fans this season as many attended the special series games last Summer, dashed up two bucks with a smile and got a great kick out of the game.

If the club gets 1,000 members, this means ten thousand dollars, and the money will almost pay for the season. Extra assessments are distasteful to many members and the committee hopes to get away from this as much as possible this coming Summer.

Gallop already has a schedule prepared and the card includes the 15th Infantry of Tientsin, the Peking Marines, the Manila Army League champions, a Japanese college nine, probably Waseda, and Harvard University. The University of California glee clubbers will also be along. Harvard comes to Japan in July and will probably be here in August.

The nine should be a hummer for Wall, Smith, Hirsch, Kingman, Jerry Thatch, Bills, Howland, Holliday, Maloney, White, Campbell and others of last year's team, Read Hager, Roy Squires of the American School and Bud McHenry of the University of California, who is coming here to live.

SAYS "BUGS" Baer:

MOSS-COVERED POP BOTTLE

Iron Bound Bottle, Old Soaking Bottle That Hung On The Skull

BY "BUGS" BAER

Pop bottles of all calibres will bring good prices next Summer.

That's one utensil of hostility that is just as dangerous empty as loaded.

Ever since Whitey Witt had his hair parted by some St. Looey bleacher barber they have been trying to legislate pop bottles out of international rates of exchange.

Powers that beef in American League now declare that crystal loving cup null and void. Its sparking facets will no longer scintillate in their rich ivory setting on outfielders' skulls.

That old, quaint tribal ceremony by Chicago rooters as they endorsed their betrothal with endur'ng a'm. "With this bottle I do thee wallop," is ruled out of declarations of war.

Boston admirers of exclusive errors will have to limit their adoration to split infinitives instead of skulls. No longer will fair or foul decanters drop in neutral territory rendered hallow by Supreme Court decision that every man's skull is his palace.

Can Philadelphia fans control their sloth-like belligerency long enough to say grace at any meal that containeth not its daily pop bottle?

Will Washington and Cleveland submerge their municipal pride deep enough to yodel for victory wherein nobody is defeated and whereby each day's setting sun sees nothing aimed and nothing bunned?

How will Detroit do its afternoon gymnastics with no pop dumbbells to develop their bottle biceps?

Another great American institution parleys its departed glory with Athens and finishes second.

Can St. Looey diminish its chartered hunger for casualties enough to toss boy-sized bromo seltzer bottles and perfume vials? Our nation is retrograding in war and in peace.

How Heavyweights Fought 101 Rounds Until Loser Was A Complete Wreck

BY JAMES J. CORBETT

As long as we talk of old-time fights and fighters, we must say something about Tom Hyers, who was a whirlwind about eighty years ago. Hyers will always be remembered as one of the hardest hitters that ever fought in the bare knuckle days. He was so terrible and punishing with his maulers that he was forced to remain idle and was practically forced into retirement. His case is somewhat parallel to that of our present champion, Jack Dempsey.

Hyers' most famous battle was with George McChester, who was known in the fighting world as "Country McCloskey." Even in that age a fighter generally carried something of a nickname, for he figured it gave him somewhat of a prestige.

This is entirely different than the present times, when a fighter, especially the real good ones, use their proper name and never tack on any foolish nomenclature. The fighting game has arisen over the stage where a member has to have some ridiculous title to distinguish him by. It is a good idea, and according to dope seldom is a fighter with an alias above the ordinary.

LASTED THREE HOURS

Hyers and McChester fought 101 rounds, which lasted within a few minutes of three hours. During that long period Hyers hit and tossed McChester around until he was in such a condition that his seconds threw in the sponge. The poor, beaten fighter was just a semblance of a human being. His features were completely obliterated, his body was just a succession of welts, and his legs bore the visible marks of the spikes they wore in those days. McChester was so badly beaten that he didn't fight again for nearly a year, and was then just a shell of his old self.

In those days there was no sympathy shown to a losing fighter, for his backers always tried to keep him fighting until he was absolutely unable to continue. They figured upon the slightest possibility of a foul or a crowd fight, which would help them out of their plight. It wasn't on account of the fighter that they helped to prolong the battle, but in a desperate effort to save the few dollars they wagered on the result. The dollar was more to the backers than the condition of their bruiser, and they always tried to save stakes.

GAME BETTER NOW

This fight is one more example of how different conditions exist now. In the first place, no fight would be allowed to last that length of time. One man could easily display superiority long before that time passed. Again nobody in authority would sit by and permit the sight of one man being battered into disfigurement and insensibility by a slow progress. The audience would rise as one and force the men in charge to end the brutal scene.

We certainly have improved vastly in that respect and at the first sign of a man being totally out-classed the fight is stopped. That is just what should happen.

Hongkong Boxer Dies Suddenly

The death occurred on March 2 of "Teddy" Neal, the well known Honkong boxer. Neal was employed by the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company.

A couple of years ago he held a high position in boxing circles, being Lightweight Champion of the Colony. He lost his title to Leading Stoker Jimmy Britt, who has since left Hongkong, in a sensational fight which ended in the first round by Neal being knocked out. He tried to "comeback," but was just as decisively beaten by A. B. Chadwick, of H. M. S. Magnolia. Since then he retired from the boxing ring.

Neal was a well built, agreeable fellow, under 30 years of age and had many friends, to whom his sudden death will come as a severe shock.

JOHNSON IS AGAIN CHAMP; GREAT SCRAP

Defeats Porter 58 Points In Wonderful Billiard Title Final

WINS 1200-1142

Break Of 42 In Last Hundred Brings Brilliant Victory

BY J. E. DOYLE

Mr. R. C. K. Johnson is again the billiard Champion of Shanghai.

The score was 1,200 to 1,142.

Johnson is the champion, indeed, after last night's battle. He won a gruelling, nerve-wracking, hair-raising game which held a big crowd around the table until nearly quarter to one this morning, for the result was in doubt until the last point was made.

Scintillating play marked the after-dinner session. Brilliant shots followed one upon another, big breaks were frequent, and those who were fortunate enough to be numbered among the 200 present were treated to a bitter battle for the local title. And to the victor goes the glory. To the vanquished is the honor of making a game fight—for Porter made a brilliant effort to capture Johnson's crown.

Four times he was within thirteen points of the champion. A dozen times a big break would have given him the lead. Often the balls ran badly, other visits to the table saw him miss easy shots. Again Porter took chances—chances that meant an unusually difficult effort to get into position for a long break.

THAT LOSING HAZARD

Porter took every chance, he was willing to stake his ability against the champion. Many believe that this cost him a victory, but all the while Johnson was plugging along, making a wonderful shot here, an ordinary shot there, always figuring to get that red ball down the table so that he could rely on his losing hazard in the side pocket, the winning shot of every champion anywhere in the world of English billiards.

Porter fought a wonderful fight last night after a miserable, terrible, awful, uninteresting first session which saw both players at their worst. Porter was down a hundred when the after-dinner innings started, yet when the sixth hundred was reached, Johnson was but 16 points in the lead. The men had been 31 times to the table when the marker called: Johnson 629, Porter 610.

Always it was nip and tuck with Johnson always having the edge. Truly Johnny is a champion. He played as would a champion. In the game every minute, he defeated Porter because he is just a shade better—and mind you, Porter played wonderful billiards last night—better, probably than he has have played before, at least within the memory of the writer, who incidentally, was one of those present at that history-making game with Bush at the American Club not too many years ago.

IS GREAT BATTLE

At the 500 mark, the champ was leading 100. An idea of the struggle he had to retain his title and get those beautiful trophies which were presented after the game can be gleaned from the knowledge that when he was 1,145, Porter had tallied 1,122, a lead of 13 points. And when two men travel that far in a billiard match and are separated by but 13 points, the players are evenly matched and it is a pretty tough old battle.

As Johnson went to the table for the 81st visit, he was 16 points ahead. The score was then 629 to 613. Porter missed and Johnson run 24, with the clock showing 10:30. On they plugged until Johnson hit 696. At that stage, Porter had 624 and he manoeuvered 49 which gave Johnson a lead of but 23 points. Johnny came back with 34 and then 28 while Porter slammed six, eight and a brilliant 41, following this with a 22 while Johnson was getting five and causing the marker to shout: Johnson 784, Porter 750. This was at the 96th trip to the table.

The champ retorted with 47 while Porter was getting 12. Both missed, Johnson, then getting four and a miss while Porter tallied two and a great 36. A few minutes later Johnson gathered a 69, and oh, such a useful 69, for Porter banged 25 and 16 in the next two trips. At 11:30 o'clock, Johnson led by 33 points, the men having made 97 visits to the table. Score: Johnson 908, Porter 875.

1,111 AT 111TH VISIT

Johnson then got a 38, a 15 and an 18, registering 979 on his 100th call. Porter hit a bad stretch and dragged squeezed a couple of elevens, then a two, another two and a miss, only to follow with a 44 while Johnny was wallopped by a two, a scratch and a miss. The 44 brought the figures to: Johnson 981, Porter 948, again a margin on 33 points, while the spectators wondered where it was going to end.

A twenty sent Johnson passed his 1,000 and a 40 carried Porter to 988. Thirteen points was the margin by which the champion led after he had struggled with Porter for the thousand.

Johnson got four, five, then 25, while Porter plugged two, made a miss and then slapped a break of 42 against the scoreboard, again pulling himself to within 13 points of the ultimate winner. Note, brothers, the score is now 1,045 to 1,042. This was at midnight and no one started for the door.

The title holder jumped to 1,105 with a 60 break as Porter was recording 26. On they battled to the 11th trip to the table when Johnson, by coincidence brought his total to 1,111 and the clock assented that it was eleven minutes past 12.

FINAL MARGIN 58

The scoring was slow, the playing cautious and neither man was too anxious to take chances in the final dash to the wire. At 12:30 o'clock, Johnson led by 11 points, with the figures at 1145 to 1134. Johnny then cracked a 42 at the most important stage of the battle, going to 1187 while Porter's eight sent him to 1,142, his ultimate score. Johnson went out from 1187, a winner by 58 points in one of the greatest billiard scraps ever staged.

Johnson had an average of nearly ten, going to the table 121 times. Porter's was nearly as good. There was little to choose between them. Both were steady. Both proved they were fighters.

Captain Barrett presented the prizes and refused to make a speech, thereby pleasing the newshounds. Captain Barrett might have said something about the wonderful after-dinner session though, for the benefit of those who sat through the first innings.

FIRST HALF WEARY

Of all the wearisome billiards ever witnessed, the session before dinner was the dreariest. Both players, cautious to the limit, safeties and jockeyed and parried and magimpled, and almost as often missed. Big breaks were few and Referee H. P. Phillips, himself a former champion, called a halt at quarter to eight, figuring that the finalists had been too long making 600 points.

"So," said Full, "we will get 700 after dinner instead of 600 now and 600 then." Porter and Johnson therefore set out for Rue Ratard and Avenue Dubail, respectively, and the good crowd that turned out left the Town Hall whistling "Three o'clock in the morning."

JOHNNY'S AVERAGE 8

The game started slow and it continued slowly. Imagine a player like Johnson with an average of but eight in 500 points and then note that Porter's average was 6.5 and the proper idea will be gleaned of the class of play. Porter made but two breaks of over 20, one of these netting him an important fifty in the early part of the fracas and the other, a 36, coming also at a strategic stage, just before he reached his third hundred.

Johnson registered 69, 47, 41, 42, 32 and 30 and really played marvellous billiards at time. Porter, too, used every shot in the catalogue and the brilliant flashes more or less atoned for the rest of that terrible first session. Both players complained about the table.

PORTER GETS LEAD

Porter led for the first couple of centuries, getting to the 220 mark with the champion halting at 157. A 42 break by Johnny helped some, putting him within 21 points of the lead and Porter followed with a miss. Johnson lost the white at 13 on the next visit when he was all set to collect, but got a three off the red and put both balls in balk. Porter scratched and Johnson got three. Porter then made eleven and the champion made a 17 which gave him a four-counter lead as the Masonic Club toy yelled from the scoreboard: Johnson 236, Porter 232.

And the crowd got interested. Porter missed and Johnson hung up a 47 which was a humdinger in every respect. He played beautifully although the balls rolled badly for him. The Johnson stock was quoted here at 283, 50 points better than Porter.

TWO HOURS FOR 400

The game again assumed a funeral aspect and the hour hand of the balcony clock had made the circuit twice before 400 had been reached. A 36 break for Porter about this time brought him to within 24 points of the leader. Johnson 420, Porter 396.

Then Mr. Johnson stepped to the table and tallied 69, then ten while Porter was getting four. It was here that Phillips called the nait and sent the boys home to snow. Johnson 591, Porter 400. Time—two hours and a half (150 min.)

Italian Opera Co.

The Italian Grand Opera Company now appearing at the Olympic theater presented "The Barber of Seville" Tuesday night, this being a very welcome change from the Verdi operas in each of which at least one person has to forfeit his life nightly.

The "Barber of Seville" is one of the most popular comic operas ever composed, and possesses almost as much wit as the comedy on which it was founded.

Last night the company presented Puccini's La Boheme, a work that also represents a reaction from the melodramatic extravagance of the old school. Puccini's music has all the gaiety and pathos of Morger's stories, and is full of simple and beautiful melodies expressing the emotion of the play.

The performers were again very good and the orchestra were at their best. Among the outstanding soloists may be mentioned Mr. Giorgi, as Rudolph; Mr. Bagardi, as Marcel, and Miss Ambrosia as Mimi.

Tonight the company will present Tosca, and those who have not already seen the company in this work will do well to make reservations, as it will be a long time, perhaps, before Shanghai again has an opportunity of seeing a company as good as this one.

$300 Fine Is Imposed In Opium Prosecution

A fine of $ 300, with the alternative of one month's imprisonment, was imposed by Assessor Mead and Magistrate Loh of the Mixed Court yesterday upon a Chinese charged with aiding and abetting in the sale of opium at 51 North Shanse Road. The man was arrested by Police Constable Stokes after the latter had noticed some suspicious looking characters moving about in the place. A considerable quantity of opium and money were found in the house and this was ordered confiscated.

PURIM BALL AT NEW CARLTON IS COLORFUL EVENT

Charity will benefit to a considerable degree as a result of the extremely successful Purim Ball given by the Hebrew Relief Society at the New Carlton last night. The dance and entertainment was a success in every way and the large crowd present heartily applauded Mr. W. A. Adams, Secretary of the American Club, when he, speaking for the Committee, congratulated Mr. William Katz, president of the society, for his efforts.

Many of the dancers were in costume and the entire ballroom presented a picturesque and colorful appearance. Prizes for the best and most original costumes were awarded to Mrs. Katz (Colonial Dame), Mr. Lee (Courtier) and Mrs. Goldenberg (flats for rent costume).

An excellent cabaret program was given between dances rounding out what was unquestionably one of the most pretentious affairs ever given by the local Jewish community. It was announced last night that it was planned to make the Purim ball an annual affair.

Peking Notes

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, March 7.—A mandate issued last night urges militarists to unite and not to indulge in strife. Politicians must not use force to back up their political ideas.

Peking, March 7.—Both Houses today were without a quorum. It is alleged that the Government is influencing the members to absent themselves, not desiring discussion on the gold franc in regard to the payment of the French share of the Boxer Indemnity or on other problems.

Peking, March 7.—A messenger employed by the Bank of China was shot dead this morning not far from the Bank while carrying two bags of the Bank's silver. His assailants escaped but did not have time to carry off the silver.

Peking, March 7.—A mandate issued last night appointed Mr. Huang Fu Chairman of the newly-formed Foreign Relations Committee. It is understood that Mr. Wang Wen-pu will be Vice-Chairman. Mr. Wang Ta-hsieh and Dr. C. T. Wang will be invited to attend the Committee to express their views on present problems.

Peking, March 7.—It is semi-officially reported that Dr. Sun Yat-sen has sent delegates to the North to discuss disbandment and reunification with the Premier.

It is officially believed that Dr. Sun will be the first among the leading politicians to support the Premier's conference plan.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, March 7.—It is reported that General Yuan Tsu-ming is concentrating his forces on the Kweichow-Yunnan border as a precaution against General Tang Chi-yao.

The military funeral will take place on Thursday March 8 at 3:30 p.m. at the Japanese Church, corner of Chapoo Road and Woochang Road.

The O. C. F. A. Battery will detail a gun carriage to parade at 987 Darroch Road (Near Swimming Baths) at 2:30 p.m.

The route to be followed will be North Szechuen Road Extension, North Szechuen and Wosung Roads.

YOU WANT PINK CHEEKS.

The Way to Get Them

Every woman wants pink cheeks, they mean not only beauty but health.

Then put the color in your cheeks, not on them. The glow of health is the red healthy blood showing through translucent skin. It is impossible without rich, red blood.

When a girl's color fades and she looks debilitated, is short of breath, when her heart palpitates after every slight exertion and she has pains in various parts of the body, she needs Dr. Williams' pink pills. They are the remedy best suited to restore the blood, bring brightness to the eyes and put color in the cheeks and lips.

Your own chemist sells Dr. Williams' pink pills, or post free, $1.50 per bottle, $8 for six, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai. A helpful booklet, "Hobbies & Health," will be sent you free in response to a postcard request directed to the above address.

STABBING CASE

Hearing shouts for help issuing from an alleyway off Seward Road Tuesday morning, a Chinese constable rushed to the scene, where he found a Chinese with a knife sticking in his back. The policeman drew the blade out and arrested one man, pointed out by the victim as one of six who had attacked him. A family feud was the reason given for the altercation. The arrested man was charged at the Mixed Court yesterday and remanded in custody for one week to allow further investigation of the case.

Frame Regulations For Vladivostok Visitors

American Consul Calls Attention To Soviet Authorities' Rules Now In Force

Provisions governing the entry and exit of foreigners into the Far Eastern Soviet Republic, formerly the Far Eastern Republic with a seat of government at Chita, and the trade of foreign interests with that territory have recently been passed by the Far Eastern Revolutionary Committee at Vladivostok. The regulations are of great importance to all persons desiring to enter that territory or carry on trade transactions with Russian interests in the district, according to Mr. Stephen M. Tuck, American consul at Vladivostok.

All foreigners desiring to enter Siberia must first get proper credentials from accredited Russian officials abroad and upon their arrival at Vladivostok they will be required to pay an entrance fee of 20 gold roubles. Failure to take these steps will result in the person having to pay a tax of 40 gold roubles and then being deported from the country. Exception in this matter has been made regarding the Chinese, who are required to pay an entrance fee of only two and a half gold roubles if they have the proper credentials and of four and a half gold roubles if they enter Siberia without having the proper credentials from the Russian authorities. The information received from the American consul at Vladivostok also states that a special representative of the Soviet Republic has been established in the Chinese Eastern Railway Zone.

All of the regulations recently passed at Vladivostok are now in force, some of them having gone into effect January 16 of this year and others on January 30.

All foreigners who live in the Far Eastern Soviet Republic who desire to leave the territory must make application to the Passport Department of the Provincial Revolutionary Committee with payment of 50 gold roubles and a statement of where it is desired to go and for what purpose the trip is to be made. The passport issued by the government of the country from which the person has come must also be sent to the Russian officials.

The Russian authorities of the district in which the foreigner lives also must make a statement that there is no objection to the foreigners leaving the country. The tax collector must state that all taxes and fees have been paid. The Russian authorities state that they will furnish blank forms for questionnaires which must be filled out and submitted before traveling permission will be granted. To this ruling Japanese, Chinese and Korean nationals are exempt but instead of the questionnaires they are required to furnish statements from their respective consuls, proof of their identity, destination and the purpose of their desired journey. Three photographs of each applicant must also be submitted to the Vladivostok officials.

The charge for visaing a passport is declared to be 7.50 gold roubles. In case the term of the passport of the alien has expired he will be subjected to a fine of 10 gold roubles. Foreigners who merely desire to pass through Siberian territory are exempt from these regulations provided they do not make any prolonged stays in the territory. These regulations are said to have been passed January 12 of this year.

Persons arriving at Vladivostok for the first time who desire to make prolonged stays in the country must present their passports at the Passport Department of the Maritime Provincial Revolutionary Committee on the basis of which he will be given a Russian document allowing him to stay in the territory for one year. At the end of the time a new permit from the Russian authorities must be procured from the Department. For this document there is a charge of five gold roubles and in addition several small fees for clerical charges.

In case a person arrives at Vladivostok without the proper visa from a Russian authority abroad a fine of 2.50 gold roubles will be charged and for failure to go to the Passport Department at Vladivostok to obtain the permit to live within the territory a fine of 10 gold roubles will be levied.

Passports issued by foreign consuls are considered as certificates only and it is vital that a permit from the Russian authorities be procured. A general charge of 10 gold roubles is to be made for each document issued.

In addition to these regulations which the American consul at Vladivostok states it is necessary for all persons desiring to enter that country comply with, there are several recent trade regulations which have been passed, under the terms of which the import of a number of classes of merchandise from abroad has been prohibited for the time being. No information has been received by Mr. Kvyatsoff how long they are to be in effect but the date of their passage is reported to be last January 27. Under these laws various metal products, leather goods, chemicals, agricultural products, furs and various other commodities have been excluded from the territory of the Far Eastern Soviet Republic.

QUEEN UNDER KNIFE

(Reuter's Service)

Copenhagen, March 6.—The Queen of Denmark has undergone a rather serious abdominal operation. The operation was successful and Her Majesty's condition is satisfactory.

French Support Wrangle, Report

Kirin, March 6.—The French Government is reported to have supplied a large quantity of ammunition to General Wrangle and requested him to rally the Russian Whites to attack the Reds in Southern Russia so as to prevent the Reds from joining with the Germans.

The report adds that the Whites have made all necessary preparations to avail themselves of the opportunity to regain their lost influence in Russia. It is understood that a headquarters is being organised in Harbin to that end.

SEINE RISING

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Mar. 6.—The rise of the Seine is continuing. A statement from the Ministry of Public Works declares that the precautions taken against flood should not be regarded with anxiety.

The rise of the waters of the Loire is causing a serious situation below Angers. Train traffic has been suspended.

CLUB MEETING

The annual general meeting of the Cercle Sportif Francais will be held on Wednesday, March 14, at 5:30 p.m. at which the accounts will be passed and various committees will be elected.

Bank Of East Asia Shows Net Profit Of Nearly Million

From the Report of the Bank of East Asia, Ltd. for the year ended December 31, 1922, it is seen that the net profit amounts to Hongkong $931,472,94. This amount is not considered very extraordinary when compared with its capital of $5,000,000 yet considering the depressing condition of trade in the world at large, occasioned by political and social disturbances that have made the year 1922 an unusually bad one, this figure ought to afford the company occasion for rejoicing. It is learned from authoritative sources for a period of four years from 1919 to 1922 the company has made over $3,000,000 and has attracted deposits to the amount of nearly $10,000,000. This is undoubtedly due to the efficient management and the large measure of confidence enjoyed by the Company.

The Bank of East Asia was organised in Hongkong in 1919 by a number of wealthy Chinese, all powerful factors in the business community. Its original capital was $2,000,000 fully paid up which was subsequently increased to $5,000,000 in 1922. Its head office is established in Hongkong with branches and agencies in nearly all the important financial centers.

Weather Report

Mar. 6.—The anticyclone is central over the (Yellow Sea and moving eastward. A depression has been forming in Kiangsi and is nearing our regions. Unsteady breezes with local calms in the north: variable winds, freshening at night in our Valley. Moderate monsoon in the south. Cloudy but rather fine weather before noon in our district, getting rainy at night. Fine and sunny in the north.

Mar. 7—Overcast and rainy weather. The depression center crosses our regions, north of Shanghai NE ward. The wind has veered to the Western quadrant.

March 7, 1923

Spot bar silver was up ⅛d and forward ⅛d in London yesterday. The New York price advanced to 67¼ cents and the London-New York cross rate declined to 469⅞. Our official quotations here today were unchanged from yesterday.

Our market at the opening was easy, steadied up in the course of the morning but eased off again at the close. The highest rates at which business in Sterling was done were 3-2½ March, 3-2¼ April and 3-2⅛ May-June.

The highest rates for Gold Dollars were 75¾ March, 75¼ April and 75 for May-June. At one time there were sellers at these rates but at the close there were buyers with sellers at ⅛d in Sterling and ¼ point in Gold Dollars lower.

At the close there were sellers of Yen at 64¼ for March and buyers at 64; there were sellers for April at 64½ and buyers at 64¼.

Banks were quoting 3-3⅛ and 77¼ for Sterling and Gold Dollar bills for near delivery and 3-3 and 76¾ for forward delivery.

Franc bills of which there were practically none offering could probably have been placed at about 1265. India bought silver in London yesterday and the market there as well as in New York is reported as steady.

Hawaii's Alien Problems

THE report of the American commission which recently investigated labor conditions in the Territory of Hawaii, as might have been expected, emphasises what is declared to be the necessity of insisting upon a stricter adherence by Japan to the terms of what is called the "gentlemen's agreement," designed to curtail the importation of common labor into the Hawaiian Islands, says the Christian Science Monitor. The menace of alien domination of the Territory is increased, it is declared, by the present practices of "parent adoption" and the importation of "picture brides" by the Japanese, contrary to the plain intent, if not to the strict letter, of the understanding.

Unavoidably there is presented, according to the investigators, the all-important question of national defense. If the control and regulation of the political, industrial, commercial, and educational life of the islands is to remain in America, it is pointed out that the sooner the people of the United States awaken to a realisation of actual conditions the better. This responsibility is to the Americans now in the islands and to all other nationals who have gone there with the reasonable assurance that the United States, and not some other nation or government, should shape and regulate the future policies of the islands, their people, and their institutions.

It can hardly be presumed that the representatives of Labor, undeniably deeply interested in the immigration policies of Hawaii, have sought to magnify the declared menace. It is not sought to monopolise the manpower of the Territory, so far as appears, nor to cause or assure a continued shortage of labor in the islands' industries. That there have been recurring seasonal shortages of labor in the sugar fields and mills is not denied, and it is this demand for labor that has led, apparently, to the relaxation of what was supposed to be an established rule regulating immigration.

To provide for the seasonal demands of planters and manufacturers, it is proposed that the President be empowered, whenever a proper showing is made, to provide for the temporary importation of any alien labor, in any required numbers, with the understanding that it shall be returned to its home countries as soon as the supply can be substituted by importations from the United States and its territories. Under such an arrangement the emergency supply of labor might come from Jamaica or Cuba, as has been proposed formerly, with the provision that residence in the islands should be temporary only.

Bedtime Stories

Poor, Forlorn Welcome Robin

BY T. W. BURGESS

When life seems darkest do not fear,
Some friend will bring a word of cheer.
—Peter Rabbit.

Poor Welcome Robin! It had been very lonesome there in the cedar swamp, living alone, as he did. But there were plenty of cedar berries and, though he grew very, very tired of them, they kept him in good condition. And he didn't mind the cold weather as much as he had thought he would. You see, it was comparatively warm in the cedar swamp and he could keep well sheltered. But when the ice storm came it was the most terrible experience Welcome Robin ever had had. He had crept into the snuggest shelter he could find and hadn't once left it while the storm lasted. Never had he felt so forlorn and almost hopeless!

When at last the sun came out Welcome Robin started out to get a meal, for he felt nearly starved. Such a world as it was! He hadn't dreamed of such a thing. It was beautiful. It was wonderfully beautiful. But Welcome Robin saw no beauty in it. To him it was terrible. You see, every twig and every leaf was coated with ice. He had hard work to cling to a twig. Worse still, all those cedar berries were coated with ice. He had to peck and peck and peck to get any, and when he swallowed them they were like little berries of ice. They made him shake and shiver with cold.

But there was no other food. He must eat those berries or starve. So he did the best he could to get him enough to keep him alive. And, oh, how he did long for the Sunny South, where he should have been, and would have been if it had not been for an accident!

"I wonder if it is going to be like this all the rest of the winter," thought he, mournfully. "I never can stand it. No, sir, I never can stand it. I shall die. I knew it. I cannot live on nothing but ice-covered berries. Oh, dear, whatever is to become of me? My, how cold it is! I didn't suppose there could be such weather."

So poor, forlorn Welcome Robin grew more and more discouraged and sick at heart. It was in this condition that Peter Rabbit found him. Peter had hunted a long time and he had begun to fear that Welcome Robin had not lived through the storm. So it was a great relief when at last he spied Welcome pecking at some cedar berries.

"Oh, here you are!" cried Peter cheerily.

"Yes," said Welcome Robin. "I'm here." But there was no cheeriness in his voice.

"I was afraid something had happened to you!" cried Peter.

"I am afraid something will happen to me," replied Welcome Robin. "Will the rest of the winter be like this?"

"No. Oh, my, no, indeed!" replied Peter. "This won't last more than two or three days."

"Two or three days will be long enough to put an end to me," returned Welcome Robin. "I can't live on these cedar berries—and there is nothing else."

"That's just what I was afraid of," cried Peter. "That is why I am over here. I've come to tell you what to do."

Do You Tire Yourself Out By Suggestion?

BY J. J. MUNDY

Are you allowing yourself to get into a "constantly tired" way?

Do you think yourself into that tired feeling?

Have you not allowed yourself to get into a way of thinking that you are a bit overworked, that you need a long rest, and because you cannot get it, it has made you feel "about worn out"?

There is nothing strange about your feeling fatigued after a day of close application to work.

If you give good service, the day's end should find you weary.

But when you get up in the morning, it is not going to make the day any easier for you to grunt and growl and groan in anticipation of it.

First thing you know you are feeling tired before you begin work.

Then the tired thought sticks all day.

The more you think weary thoughts, the wearier you become.

By night you will have created a mental state of exhaustion, which a night of rest cannot dissipate.

And you will go around among folk with the haggard, long-drawn-out, "weary-Willie" expression, which makes you an object of pity or disgust.

Do not "play the baby-act."

World's Radium Financed Through N. Y. Corporation

BY DR. W. H. BALLOU

The radium producing interests of America and Europe, startled by the discovery of large deposits of easily worked radium-bearing pitchblende beds in the Belgian Congo, have trusted all of their assets in the great New York corporation known as The Associated Radium Chemists, Inc., with general offices at No. 461 Eighth Avenue.

This corporation, financed by two of the largest Wall street banking houses, through a well known local banker who was recently abroad, has taken over the Belgian interests and will work them through a subsidiary company, marketing the product through the Eighth Avenue concern.

As all American radium matters are under the supervision of the United States Government, application was made to George Otis Smith, Director of the U. S. Geological Survey, Washington, for a statement covering the situation. He replied as follows:

"The national observance of 'Cancer Week,' when public spirited men, most of them physicians, have shown anew the tragic seriousness of cancer, has again turned attention to radium as one of the principal agencies for coping with that appalling scourge. Radium is not a specific for cancer, for which there is no specific, but it has repeatedly proved to be of very great efficacy in the treatment not only of cancer but of some other diseases.

GREAT DROP IN PRICE

"Almost simultaneously with Cancer Week there has been a great drop in the price of radium; instead of the former price, $120,000 per gram (about 15.43 grains of elemental radium, the price now advertised is $70,000 per gram.

"A considerable reduction in price had preceded this drop, because several manufacturers had on hand considerable stocks of radium which, owing to the present financial conditions, were not sold readily. The recent great drop, however, was not due to this cause—it was due to the discovery in Katanga, in Belgian Congo, of large deposits of very rich, easily worked radium ores, and to the erection of a plant at Colen, Belgium, about forty miles from Antwerp, for producing radium from these ores.

"These deposits are at Luiwishi and Kasolo, near Elizabethville, in the extreme southern part of Belgian Kongo, and consist of veins on the property of the Union Miniere du Haut-Katanga, a British-Belgian company operating huge copper bearing properties in Katanga. The veins carry pitchblende, which is in large part altered to gummite, uranophane, and other uranium minerals.

"A subsidiary company has been formed to extract the radium, and a considerable quantity of ore carrying many times as much radium as the carnotite ores that have heretofore governed the world's markets has been shipped to Belgium.

"No data is at hand, however, to show that in the aggregate the newly found deposits will eventually yield as much radium as the deposits in the plateau region of the United States, though a considerable quantity can be produced from the Katanga deposits at a much lower cost, and it is that cost that is ruling the radium market today.

RADIUM MINES CLOSED

"Recognizing the value of co-operation, American companies, closing down their own mines, have undertaken to market the African product, and radium is therefore now offered at a price lower than any that has prevailed since it became an object of commerce, and an opportunity is thus given to branches of government, hospitals, doctors and philanthropists to obtain the precious material at a minimum expenditure, for it seems probable that the price will go no lower. Eventually the principal source of radium will again be the carnotite deposits of the West, and when that time comes, if not before, the price will again rise.

"The State of New York and the city of Philadelphia have each bought two grams of radium for the use of their citizens, and the Province of Quebec has bought one gram. It is hoped that other municipalities, States, or countries will buy radium at the present advantageous rates, particularly as the work done during Cancer Week is likely to occasion a great call on institutions for the treatment of cancer in its early stages, when it is most amenable to treatment by radium.

"Here is a remarkable opportunity for wealthy men to do something to help sufferers from cancer and some other malignant diseases that may be cured by the use of radium."

THE HEALTHIEST PEOPLE

It has been found that the healthiest, longest lived people in the world are those who live about and work in the uranium mines of Colorado and Utah, producing the principal American ore from which radium is extracted.

Not only are they the healthiest people, but they have a resistence to disease germs unknown to any other workers. Epidemics pass them by. When all the country was suffering with influenza, that microbe simply curled up and died as soon as it got into their blood streams. Rheumatism, gout, arthritis, neuritis and kindred maladies do not and cannot exist among them.

Dr. E. Stillman Bally, of Chicago, one of America's most distinguished physicians, calls attention to this Western Paradise from which old age troubles and bad health have apparently been banished.

"It is the rays of radium in which they work, and which they take in with both their food and drink, that has brought about this state of affairs," he said. "These rays seem to work miracles and reveal a veritable fairyland of science.

"One of the principal causes of old age is hardening of the arteries. Under the radium rays or emanations, this hardening disappears. The arteries and veins become supple again.

JADED APPETITES REVIVED

"Jaded appetites become keen. Red blood corpuscles have increased by 250,000 within forty-eight hours after the action of the radium began. Radium is a wonderful tonic and blood remedy. Its possibilities are still undreamed-of."

But Dr. Robert Abbe, Senior Surgeon of St. Luke's Hospital in New York, and one of the most noted operators in America, found that radium had another amazing power. Indeed it raised the question whether in the gamma ray is not the secret of immortality.

Dr. Abbe found that when meal worms were radiumised, or subjected to the action of radium, with certain precautions of course, they went on living indefinitely as meal worms! While their sisters and brothers, unradiumised, progressed for generations, completing their cycles as beetles, eggs and meal worms!

In other words, the beetle laid its eggs, which became meal worms, which in turn became changed into beetles, which in turn laid eggs, which in turn became meal worms, and so forth.

And meanwhile, while they were doing this, the radiumised meal worms remained plain worms, living contented and happy. Death, which was the fate of their changing brothers and sisters, did not touch them at all.

SOME THEORIES OF LIFE

It was Dr. Abbe indeed who put forward the theory that radium has the power to restore the balance of life force:

"In what does the beneficient action of radium reside?" he asks. "This question, with many others, still awaits solution. We know only that we have a subtle force, which, as far as we discern, is a stream of rays charged with negative electricity with intense penetrating power, capable of transversing stone, human flesh or solid steel with facility, which plays upon the vital cells (animal and vegetable) and alters their rate of growth or kills them altogether.

"What the vital spark is in a living thing no one knows. It has been surmised that life itself may only be an embodiment of electric force. It has been supposed by some that a living cell continues its normal career owing to a balance established within it between positive and negative electric force, and that aggregate mass of cells in the body, such as constitutes a tumor, may result from their erratic growth owing to a loss of balance of electric equilibrium.

"May it not be reasonable that a mild application of radium emitting its distinctive rays is thereby capable of restoring the electric equilibrium, while on the other hand a prolonged and intense application carries the balance to a destructive termination?"

KUYUAN, KANSU

Kuyuan, though far away from modern conveniences, has really become known to quite a few people because of the havoc wrought in its district by the earthquake on the night of the 20th December 1920. It has been interesting to read of the "awful" destruction done by that quake in districts where it never occurred! Why such false reports? We don't know, and don't care to know, either.

The beginning of the year found us under the administration of a new Magistrate, one who has performed his duties well, and to the satisfaction of most people. Several industrial developments have been pushed by him, such as spinning, weaving, and knitting. Of course, the machinery, if it can be called such, are very crude, but some very beautiful rugs have been turned out here and exported to other parts. Wool is not very expensive as sheep are raised extensively. Some very beautiful lamb skins have been gotten here for clothes lining. Every year thousands of dollars' worth of sheep skins pass through the Post Office to other provinces in the east. Lambs bring the highest prices because of their valuable fur. A full grown sheep skin sells for a thousand cash, while a lambskin retails at from 3,000 to 4,500 cash. Because of a new Civil Governor our present Magistrate is being superseded by a new one in March. He also had the water from a lake 40 "li" west of here led into the city, a boon for vegetation and other purposes. When it reaches the city it is not safe for drinking or cooking. Some planting of trees has also been done by him in the country, though on a small scale.

FAMINE LOOMS

Everybody was happy over the prospects of a very good harvest, and that food prices would be cheap. Crops were harvested, and no sooner had the wheat, oats, buckwheat, and peas been gathered before an order came from the Defense Commissioner residing in Pingliang levying a certain amount of grains from each village. And then there was a heavy drain on the resources from Shensi, where there has been famine. These two disappointments tended to raise the prices sky-high. The year before wheat sold for 800 cash per "teo," while this year it has been as high as 2,600! Though the prevailing price is the latter, the Defense Commissioner allows only 900.

Thousands of people have been starving in this district, many of them not having enough seed to sow in the Spring. We have been reluctant to report these conditions knowing that there has been dire need of foodstuffs in our neighboring provinces. But the situation here is also such that many would welcome an allotment of seed for sowing this Spring. As we had some money left which kind friends in several parts of China had contributed we can buy seed to distribute to some, but alas! not to all who need. Many a farmer will be without the means of tilling his soil in the Spring of 1923.

Opium has been and is sold openly, and the addicts are numbered by the thousands. It is a source of revenue for the higher officials who are encouraging it, to the degradation of the people. Many a former rich has become poor, pawning, mortgaging and selling goods and property. This seems to be China's worst curse.

As far as politics are concerned the people do not care who is in power, only if they are treated as human beings. Much can be said about certain present officials, but we refrain here in a public paper.

A NEW SECT

Religiously, there has been progress, not only for our own Protestant work, but even for the Society called "T'ong Shan Huei." This is a Society which seems to have a smattering of all religions in its Creed. One of their "don'ts" is "don't eat beef or dog meat." But they can smoke all the opium they want! The head of the cult here is a man from Szechuen who came during the Summer. Their adherents number a couple hundred. A fee of one dollar is paid on entering, and that finishes it. Many of the members have paid their dollar and joined, but haven't attended the meetings. They have joined to "save their faces," while at the same time have no faith in it. The Moslems, as far as we can see, have been quiet, though their lawsuits occupy most of the Yamen's time.

This city is really a residential one. It being the home of many ex-officials, not only of Kansu, but of other provinces. And they are erecting some beautiful homes here, spending thousands of dollars on buildings alone. The city streets are well laid out, though they need improving, as far as their condition is concerned. On account of lack of funds the outer walls have not yet been repaired since they were destroyed by the earthquake, but they contemplate doing this in the near future. If that much-talked-about automobile road ever gets started and finished from Sian to Lanchow, then we'll be brought nearer to these two large cities. The mountains contain minerals and some of the rich here are willing to form a syndicate if they could get an American engineer to advise them. Here are opportunities for geologists, engineers, naturalists and merchants, and, if you please, agriculturists. Of course there are untold opportunities for the Christian worker too.

The Test Of Love

BY DOROTHY DIX

The other day I found Maud in tears.

"What is the matter?" I inquired.

"Jack broke an engagement with me to meet some horrid customer," she sobbed. "It was most important, because the man was only going to be in town a few hours, and he had to see him, but it shows that he doesn't think I'm important, and that my pleasure is to be considered. He puts his old business ahead of me, and it proves he doesn't lo-o-o-ve me," and then she boo-hooed some more.

"Cheerio," I said, "dry your eyes and rejoice, for Jack has just given you the strongest proof of love that any human being is capable of manifesting. He has shown that he is willing to work for you, that he is willing to sacrifice himself for you, that he is looking forward to protecting your future.

"Words are cheap. About the easiest and least costly thing any man can do is to sit down and fan a girl with hot air, and tell her how wonderful and beautiful she is, and how he adores her, and that every hour that he is away from her is a weary eternity.

"Lots of man will do that, and they will camp on a girl's parlor chairs, play around with her, and always be Jonny-on-the-spot when she wants to go to a dance, or the movies, or some place of amusement, but they loaf along on their jobs, and never get enough money to get married on.

"And the poor, silly, little girl believes that she has inspired a grand passion in the man's breast because he talks so much about it, and because he is always hanging around ready to help her enjoy herself.

"Believe me, daughter, there's nothing in sentimental twaddle to which a woman can tie. The acid test of love is not what a man says to you, but how much he is willing to do for you. The real lover doesn't sigh, and moon about, and curse the cruel fate that keeps you apart. He rolls up his sleeves, and gets out and hustles to bring the wedding day nearer. Don't put any faith in the man who spends hours telling you that he wishes he were a fairy prince who could give you a palace by the sea to live in, and nectar and ambrosia to feed upon. Pin your faith to the man who is working overtime to get you a little bungalow, or a small apartment, and three square meals a day for you to eat.

"It is a curious thing how few women have sense enough to perceive that when a man gives them the work of his hands and his brains he has paid them the highest possible tribute. He has broken his alabaster box before them, and they are so obtuse that they don't even get a whiff of the perfume of its francincense and myrrh.

"Take your own case, my dear. You are peeved with Jack because he broke an engagement to go a-pleasuring with you, to attend to an important piece of business, something that couldn't wait while you frivolled away an idle hour. You think that he put a slight upon you, that he showed that he held you cheaply.

"In reality, he paid you a high compliment. He assumed that you were an intelligent and reasonable human being who would be able to see the situation from a sane and just standpoint, and understand that duty must come before pleasure. Also, he assumed that you trusted him, and trusted his love enough to know that he would always be with you if he could, and that he would not willingly deny you any gratification of your desires.

"So much for that. Try to look a little deeper. Why is Jack working so hard? The sooner to marry you, my dear. Every additional lick, every bit of additional punch and pep he puts into his job, all the extra time he gives to at, brings you that much nearer to him. He isn't content with vague longings. He is toiling with might and main to make his dream home a reality.

"You, like thousands of other foolish women, complain because your man is absorbed in his business, and he gives to it time that you think belongs to you. Did you ever stop to think what a man works for, what is the motive power that drives him on through weariness, and sickness, and anxiety? It is love for some woman. It's the desire that his wife shall live safe, and sheltered, and free from care. It's the ambition to see his wife the mistress of a fine house, riding in automobiles, decked in jewels and fine clothes.

"It doesn't take much money to supply a man's personal needs. He could make that with one hand tied behind him, and loaf half the time. No man would work himself to death for himself. He commits that stupendous and chivalrous folly because he loves his wife better than he does himself. And there you are, my child. Men say it with work. As long as a woman has no rival but a man's business she has got no cause to worry. It is when he lays down on his job that she has a right to doubt his love."

Shipbuilding In 1922

Including work under way in the shipyards of Germany and Danzig, an increase of approximately 250,000 gross tons in the amount of work under way in world's shipyards is shown for the quarter ending in December, 1922, the year-end statement of Lloyd's Register of Shipping shows, according to a lengthy review in the New York Journal of Commerce. This increase is in comparison with the period ending last October.

Although world shipbuilding, the report states, is now slightly above the pre-war figure in the volume of orders placed, it is still well under the 1914 total in the amount of work on which construction is actually proceeding.

Contracts involving the building of 564,000 tons of merchant vessels have been suspended throughout the world and of this amount 348,000 tons represents the orders on which work has been stopped in Great Britain and Ireland alone, or 132,000 tons more than for all the rest of the maritime nations combined.

Compared with the previous quarters the total of work unfinished shows an increase of about a quarter of a million gross tons, but included in this is the volume of work in the hands of the shipyards of Germany and Danzig which was not given in the previous quarter's total and which, if now excluded, would show a decrease instead of a gain during the past quarter. The returns show a further drop in the amount of tonnage building in American shipyards, the American total now being below the pre-war figure of 148,000 tons. Comparisons for the two quarters are as follows, in gross tons:

	Jan. 1, 1923	Oct. 1, 1922
United States	139,448	150,623
Great Britain & Ireland	1,468,599	1,617,045
Other countries	1,346,271	934,888
World total	2,954,318	2,702,556
Less German & Danzig	464,877
Actual comparison	2,489,441

LOSS IN ORDERS SHOWN

The actual showing for the last quarter, therefore, is a loss in unfinished orders of over 200,000 gross tons. If consideration is given, however, only to construction on which work is actually proceeding, it will be seen that the present total is more than half a million gross tons below the pre-war level, even including the work in Germany and Danzig. Taking into account the suspensions of work ordered throughout the world, Lloyd's Register gives the following comparative table of gross tons of shipping being built now and before the war:

	Jan. 1, 1923	July 1, 1922
Gt. Britain & Ireland	1,120,599	1,747,000
Other countries	1,269,719	1,199,000
World total	2,390,719	2,946,000

These figures show a reversal of pre-war condition in that British shipyards, which in 1914 were building 50 percent more tonnage than all the other maritime countries combined are now constructing less than half of the world's output. There are some indications of improvement in the British ship building industry, however, in the fact that the steamers and motor vessels on which construction was begun during the quarter just ended aggregated 229,567 gross tons, as compared with only 82,108 tons in the preceding quarters. British launchings during the past quarter were 259,458 tons, as against 306,812 tons in the preceding quarter. And while in the third quarter of 1922 the work being brought toward completion was nearly four times the amount of new work begun, in the last quarter keels laid almost equaled hulls launched.

537,784 TONS LAUNCHED

Lanchings for the entire world during the quarter just ended totalled 537,784 gross tons while new vessels for which work was begun aggregated 344,680 tons, the latter figures excluding Germany. It is evident that the great bulk of new orders being placed are going to British yards.

The returns from all countries of the construction work being done under the supervision of Lloyd's Register and intended to be classed with that society show a total of 1,498,787 gross tons, of which 1,060,841 tons represent orders placed in Great Britain and Ireland. The bulk of the seagoing merchant tonnage building throughout the world, therefore, is being classed by Lloyd's and nearly three-fourths of the British total.

Declines continue to be shown in the building of tankers. Steamers and motor vessels of this type of 1,000 gross tons and upward, building in Great Britain and Ireland at the beginning of this year aggregated 204,704 tons, a drop of over 100,000 tons from the previous quarter. The American total was 23,480 tons, compared with 26,780 tons three months previously. For all other countries combined, however, a gain was shown, the January 1 figure being 71,944 tons as against 57,494 on October 1. But for the world the total at the beginning of this year was 300,128 tons, compared with 391,245 tons three months previously.

GERMANY IS SECOND

Germany now stands second to Britain in the amount of tonnage under construction and is followed in order by Italy, France, Holland, with the United States sixth and Japan seventh, next in sequence being the British Dominions and Danzig respectively. The construction in these countries now as compared with before the war is as follows in gross tons. Lloyd's Register states:

	Jan. 1, '23	July 1, '14
Japan	93,831	91,000
British Dominions	49,245	36,000
Germany	416,081	547,000
Italy	211,499	69,000
France	188,525	226,000
Holland	142,969	116,000
United States	138,448	148,000
British Dominions	49,245	36,000
Danzig	47,796	...

The total under way in the shipyards of Germany and Danzig on October 1 last was estimated at 390,000 tons, the present total of 464,877 tons indicating an increase of about 75,000 tons.

The peak in world shipbuilding, says Lloyd's Register, was attained in September, 1919, when there was 8,048,000 gross tons of ships under way. The present total of actual construction, therefore, represents a decline of over five and a half million gross tons.

Children Cry for Fletcher's
CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies.

Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realise that of all the children born in civilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Cotton Embargo Again Is Issued

Peking, March 6.—With reference to the proposal to place an embargo on the export of cotton, the Cabinet resolved today to instruct the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to make further representations to the Diplomatic Corps for its approval. The foreign Ministers are to be informed that the proposed ban is not permanent and will be raised when the Chinese Government sees fit.

The Shanghai Maritime Customs Administration has received a telegram al despatch from the Chinese Government with regard to the embargo on the export of cotton. When an agreement has been reached with the Commissioner of Customs, a notification will be issued, declaring that the aforesaid ban will be enforced three weeks from the date of notice.

Army Commander In India Object To Retrenchments

(Reuter's Service)

Delhi, March 6.—In the debate on the Budget in the Legislative Assembly today General Lord Rawlinson, the Commander-in-Chief, announced that the Imperial Government had accepted the Inchcape reductions for the infantry but the proposals with regard to cavalry and artillery were still under consideration.

He said that he could not accept the idea that the cost of the Army could ever be reduced to 500 million rupees. He could not admit that the Army was too strong or too efficient for the needs of the country. Its equipment had not yet reached the completeness which the Assembly had resolved on the Esher report, but the Army was very efficient at present.

Lord Rawlinson fully recognised the paramount importance of balancing the Budget and hence he had advised the Government to take the risk. The fundmental organisation of the Army in India was not impaired.

The reduction was largely possible because the external and internal situation had much improved.

Boxer Fund Goes To "Suspense Account"

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 6.—In the House of Commons today, replying to Sir W. De Frece, the Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Mr. Ronald McNeill, stated that the instalments of the Boxer Indemnity will be paid into a suspense account pending further decisions with regard to the disposal of the funds.

The question as to what machinery should be established to deal with the allocation of funds was being considered.

Mr. Ronald McNeill also stated that the Government was considering the reports of the British delegates on the Anglo-Chinese Joint Commission which had made a preliminary investigation of the conditions on which Weihaiwei should be returned to China. There had been no unnecessary delay.

STILL IN LEAGUE

(Reuter's Service)

Buenos, Aires, March 6.—In the Chamber of Deputies today, the Foreign Minister declared that the withdrawal of the Argentine Delegation from the League of Nations' Assembly in 1920 did not mean that Argentina no longer belonged to the League. Argentina intended to pay up arrears of contributions to the League.

A. W. C. Vaudeville

Vaudeville extraordinary is to be staged by talent secured by Miss Louise Loehr of the American Woman's Club, tomorrow night, at 9 sharp, at the Isis Theater, for the benefit of the Membership Courtesies, and Publicity Committees. The proceeds will go towards the fund for the club house so greatly needed, not only for the club's own activities but that it may be of greater service to the community which it already serves so well.

During the first part of the evening "The Millionaire," a play of rapid action with Bert Rawlinson as star will be given. After the interval the Misses Helen Moleka and Julia Williams, with Mr. Charles Moleka will present Hawaiian songs and dances. "The Family Album," a series of tableaux, a take off on the familiar types of the old folks that never left home, will be presented. Miss Grace Haimovitch will dance; Mr. Raggett of "Tom Jones" fame will sing two solos and will also be heard in a duet with Mrs. A. Goldman. Mrs. Sen will be the accompanist. Mr. John Zane will do "Drawings without words" or a Chalk Talk of dextrous sketching.

Madame Tomina is reported to be a dancer of unusual merit and those who have seen her declare this one member is worth the price of admission so that and altogether this program, for which Miss Loehr is responsible, should be most enjoyable.

Russians Plan Hankow Building

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, March 3.—The Russian Municipal Council here has proposed the erection of a Tls. 200,000 Municipal building in the Russian Concession which is now under nominal management of the Chinese government and controlled by a Municipal Board of Directors of the ratepayers.

However, the question has been raised as to the inadequate representation of non-Russian ratepayers on the Board, in which there are only two members against five Russians including the Chairman although Russians constitute less than one fourth of the ratepayers.

Costume Ball Date At Parisien Changed

Due to the fact that a number of events and particularly the St. Patrick's Day Ball of St. Patrick's Society is being held on March 17 the Management of The Parisien Hotel and Cafe announced a change in the date of the Grand Costume Ball which originally was scheduled for March 17.

The costume ball at the Parisien will take place on the evening of March 24 when six valuable prizes will be awarded—three to ladies and as many to men. The current attraction at The Parisien is the Hawaiian village and the Hawaiian singers and dancers.

Chapei Utilities Company Acquires Tract For Plant

A site of several hundred mow of land situated at Yinyingsiang in Chapei is reported to have been acquired by the Chapei Water Works and Electricity Company Preparation Office. The new company is being organised by a number of prominent Chinese merchants. The urgent need of such an organisation is felt by the Chinese community at Chapei, who are dissatisfied with the present Water Works and Electricity Company, which is an official concern. The site newly purchased is located at a convenient distance from the Whangpu River, which will be the source of water supply of the Company.
